

Quartic Training – Code of Ethics

Quartic Training operates in the field of financial markets education, and aims to conduct business with the following ethical objectives:

- To operate for the collective benefit of all stakeholders, including shareholders, delegates, clients, employees and suppliers.
- To conduct business that is fair to all parties and that would not unfairly jeopardise one stakeholder in favour of another.
- To treat all individuals, including delegates, employees, job applicants, contractors and other business associates, with dignity and to consider their merits and abilities without regard to gender, sexual orientation, race, religion, age, disability or any other discriminatory factor.
- To treat all organisations, including clients, suppliers, professional bodies and competitors, with respect and to enter into business agreements through ethical and fair market practices.
