100 to 150

hours should be spent on studying for the ESG Certificate.

We recommend spending at least an hour a day on this so that you can sit the exam within three to four months of starting.

Although you will have a year from registration in which to do the exam, a more intense timetable will make the studying more efficient.

IMC

If you have also passed the level 4 IMC exam then you will be awarded the CFA UK Level 4 Diploma in Investment Management (ESG).

Examinations & Qualifications

Examinations

The exam contains 100 multiple choice questions, including a few (multi-question) item sets, and candidates have 2 hours 20 minutes to complete the paper.

You can sit the exam either at a Pearson VUE centre (hundreds of locations around the world) or at home using the OnVUE Online Proctoring service.

To pass the exam you will need a score of at least 60 to 70%. The exact pass mark is not published but is adjusted to take account of question difficulty. You get your provisional result immediately at the end of the exam.

Qualification

When you pass the exam you will receive the CFA UK Level 4 Certificate in ESG Investing.

Finance Essentials

We have included an additional section at the back of our workbook to provide background knowledge on areas of finance within ESG. These include quantitative methods, accounting, asset classes and portfolio theory, with video explanation of each concept. Although not directly examinable, the Finance Essentials section provides invaluable background to ESG candidates who would like to improve their knowledge.

Prerequisites

There are no formal prerequisites to studying the ESG Certificate.

A knowledge of the investment process is useful but not essential. You will also see accounting and mathematical terminology, all of which is explained in the Finance Essentials section.

The exam contains no calculations. Calculators are not permitted (or needed) in the exam itself.

Benefits of the ESG Certificate in Investing

Asset owners and investment management clients are increasingly asking ESG-focused questions relating to their portfolios:

- How green is the portfolio?
- What is the carbon footprint of the investee companies?
- How is the workforce treated throughout the supply chain?
- Do directors and senior managers have conflicts of interest?
- Are all stakeholders, including local communities and the environment, benefitting from corporate policies?
- How do the ESG credentials of the portfolio compare to a suitable benchmark?

The knowledge gained by studying for the Certificate in ESG Investing will help you to address these questions and enhance the ESG credentials of your portfolios.
